We'll keep this note brief, and to the point...the cost to enroll for the 2023 Training Series will increase from $225 to $250 at noon this Friday - and our Beginner ride is this Saturday!

There are a few more details below for those of you who are new to Ready2Roll Cycling and the link to enroll is near the bottom of the note. If you want to get the best deal possible, enroll ASAP to beat the increase.

Of course, the biggest reason to enroll is we have another fantastic season planned and if you delay, and miss details coming early in the season, you may miss some great opportunities and details!

Another good reason, as most of you know, is that we ask each rider to help cover one simple volunteer duty to help support the riders and get all the materials to and from the rides. There are many volunteer options so, the sooner you enroll, the more options you have when selecting a volunteer duty. Also, the 2023 season is shaping up to be another classic series of wonderful, well-supported rides, all fairly close to home!

Are you Ready2Ride?

Ready2Roll Cycling is very excited to announce that enrollment is now open for our 2023 training series - this is a BIG DEAL!

Riders pay a one-time enrollment fee for the 10-week series plus a one week, pre-season beginner ride which is on January 28. The 10-week series runs from February 4 to April 22 and finishes up just in time for the Bike MS: Texas

MS 150. While many of our riders do the training series to get ready for the MS 150, keep in mind we also have a large number of riders participating in the training series that don't do the MS 150 but still enjoy well-organized and supported weekly rides.

Although still subject to change, we now have a draft of the 2023 ride schedule posted on our website calendar: www.Ready2RollCycling.com.

Ready2Roll Cycling hosts very well supported rides in the communities in the greater Houston area. Weekly rides include options for short or long distances and, as the series progresses, we will increase mileage and bring on the hills. Weekly support is very organized and includes law enforcement, fully stocked rest stops, SAG support, bike mechanics, detailed signage, "talking" maps, and more. We also offer a backup Sunday ride option should the Saturday ride be cancelled due to weather.

For those on a team or part of a rider organization, we have pre-listed all the teams that indicated an interest in participating, to simplify the enrollment process. If you don't see your team's name listed in the drop down, simply select "Other Team", then type your team's name in the "Other Team" box that magically appears. If your team is interested in joining us, please have your team contact Steve M (stevemoskowitz@ready2rollcycling.com) to get your team added to the list...

Of course, individual riders are also welcome to participate. Anyone who shares our focus on safety, courtesy, being ambassadors for cycling, and fun, is welcome to join us!

To deliver an exceptional, fully supported cycling training series, Ready2Roll Cycling requires each participant volunteer for one job. You are welcome to sign up for more, but one volunteer duty is all that is required. Without our volunteers, this training series is simply not possible, so we ask that each person give just a little bit to help our Ready2Roll Cycling rider community. You are also welcome to recruit a family member or friend to fill your volunteer duty - the form allows you to fill in a different volunteer when you enroll but please confirm the date/duty with your delegated volunteer before delegating them. All the duties and dates are on the volunteer form with a short description.

Please note:

- Children are welcome to volunteer, but, if they are under age 14, they need to be accompanied by an adult (we are very proficient at completing high school volunteer confirmation forms...)
- Ride Marshals, Bike Medics and Bike Police (who have or will register as such for the 2023 Bike:MS ride) are already volunteering each time they ride so they are not required to volunteer but are welcome to volunteer, if they want!
